

Durango supplement July 3, 2003

It is Monday and our day off. We have been working on the car making some necessary repairs and finding things that are in need of repair we had not anticipated. This morning it was hot until about noon when a thunderstorm hit. It cooled everything off but the heavy rain forced us to stop for lunch.

The news page for stage 8 and stage 9 are not working at the moment. I will fix that today and get the news posted. If you have tried the sites you will need to refresh your screen when it is working. To do that, press the "f5" key to refresh the screen. I will also up date this supplement this evening.
